Our centres provide compassionate, expert assessments that guide social workers and family courts in making confident decisions about children's futures. We also offer ongoing support through our Securing Change programme, helping families maintain positive change as they return to the community.

Securing Change

Working together to keep families together

Our Service

Securing Change offers continued support to families following residential assessment, regardless of the outcome. Transitioning to the community is a complex and emotionally vulnerable time. Our 1:1 support helps parents to embed and maintain positive change, reducing further risk of children entering care.
